

Baby Marriages in India.

A Bengal contemporary seems to have unearthed some curious figures buried deep underneath the tomes of the latest census report. According to this there are 535 widows in Bengal under one year—that is so many infants of from one month to 11 months, had been married in the province and found married. It would be interesting to know the respective ages of the husbands of these hapless little creatures. Not a few of the husbands might be found old enough to be their great-grand-fathers, with perhaps several wives to each. Were all of them Kullu marriages? Under two years we find the number of widows in Bengal to be 574; under three years, 651; under four years, 1,576; under five years, 3,861. Here we have something like a holocaust, a sort of burning alive of these little mites of humanity, who, but for the prevalence of a rigid sex monopoly, would probably live to be true wives and truly happy mothers—the mothers of future heroes and patriots. What possibilities are lost to the race forever under a system which has not one word to say for itself? It is much to be wished that young Bengal joined hands with the old Bengal in making such "marriages" impossible. Surely a hundred years of liberal education ought to suffice for this most elementary item of national improvement. Our remarks apply with much the same force to other parts of India. It is idle to talk of the "spiritual" idea of marriage, or marriage being a sacrament, and of baby wives and baby widows growing to be the guardian angels of society, when, as a rule, they are consigned to a life of perpetual penance and self-mortification, while needing the tenderest care, amid the free and easy movements of their male relatives, whom the "spiritual" conception of marriage does not prevent from marrying again and again. Terrible, according to our standards, are the effects of a curse pronounced by a woman; much more terrible when the curse remains unuttered. Who can tell how much of India's misery arises from the unuttered sufferings of her daughters?—Voice of India.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH.

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method—Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by dosing the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a health giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

G. L. Penny has sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is that he is perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

England's Queen.

There are not many people in this world fortunate enough to have their dreams of childhood realized, but England's fair Queen is one who has had her earliest wish fulfilled. One day when she was sitting with her companions she told them her dearest wish was "above all things to be loved." How different from theirs, which were to be clever and renowned, rich and powerful, or to travel and see beautiful things in other lands. It was a worthy wish, and in the celebration of her birthday, Dec. 1, she had ample proof that it had indeed come true. There is no reigning monarch more dearly loved and respected by her friends and subjects. Her whole life has been one to demand that from all who came in contact with or knew anything of her. She is as noble and true a woman as even her mother could have wished her to be.

The W. C. T. U. has been trying to devise ways and means for a circulating library and on Monday evening the initial step was taken by inviting the public to a "Book Reception" given at the West Room. The members thank the people for their patronage and hopes to soon have a full library to offer in return for the help.

CLIMATIC CURES.—The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles 25c; regular size 75c. At all drug gists.

"I dearly love that good old song, 'Home, Sweet Home,'" remarked the young man who was afflicted with the lingering habit.

"But I suppose," rejoined the weary female in the parlor scene, as she glanced at the clock, "it's the air rather than the sentiment that appeals to you."

of Mercer county, is a candidate for Congress in the eighth district, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the democratic party. Your support is earnestly solicited.

THE democratic caucus at Frankfort nominated the Hon. E. H. Brown, of Nelson county, for Speaker. Only one ballot was taken, resulting: Brown, 43; Newcomb, 18; Barton, 15. Mr. Brown's nomination was made unanimous and one of the most spirited contests of recent years over the speakership closed with the best of feeling. The Senate caucus nominated Senator J. Embury Allen, of Fayette, for president pro tem. James E. Stone, of Breckinridge county, was elected Chief Clerk, Marion Pogue, of Crittenden county, Assistant Clerk, Miss Amy Lyons, of Jessamine county, Enrolling Clerk, A. C. Dunn, of this county, Doorkeeper, Capt. C. W. Longmire, of Lexington, Sergeant-at-Arms, C. Parrish, of Lexington, Janitor, James B. Knox, of Hancock county, and Guy Vinson, of Muhlenburg county, cloak room keepers, and Raymond Olive, of Lyon county; Ernest Renaker, of Harrison county; Herbert Crader, of Louisville; and Rebel Martin, of Knott county, were elected pages after long and exciting contests. Manley Huey, son of Rev. O. M. Huey, of this city, made a good race for cloak room keeper, but met defeat. The easiest race was that of Mr. A. C. Dunn, who was elected on the first ballot, getting 48 votes to his four opponents' 24. The Courier Journal says it was a runaway race for Mr. Dunn and that Hon. J. M. Alverson, Representative from this county, is entitled to the honor of landing a creditable race for Assistant Clerk and his many friends regret that he did not win.

WOMEN do not seem to want to vote as bad as some few of their sex think they do. For instance, in Springfield, Mass., where women are entitled to vote in school elections, only 263 of the 10,000 women in the town qualified themselves to vote by registering, and only 51 of these took the trouble to vote. And yet women are supposed to be especially interested in school policy and management, because the care of young life falls more directly upon them. Very few women, however, desire to vote in any election. The rest are satisfied with bossing the men who vote.

THE papers are talking mighty nicely about Judge M. C. Saufley, whose friends are trying to get him to stand for the democratic nomination for Appellate Judge. The judge's admirers, and they are legion, greatly appreciate these evidences of good feeling for him and they will leave nothing undone in their efforts to induce him to make the race.

THE Somerset Journal offers the following as a solution to a knotty problem: "An easy solution of the holocaust problem is to drop the asbestos curtains and let them remain dropped till the present aggregation of fake shows disband and the army of bums now in the business go back to the plow handles and mines where they belong."

IN an interview Col. Dan L. Moore says he made $15,000 out of a cotton deal recently. The very wet and very dry things seem to be "good things" for the amiable colonel, but he'll have to get a bigger pile than his last clearing if he hopes to defeat Hon. Harvey Helm, of this place, for the democratic nomination for Congress.

JUDGE M. C. SAUFLEY is now an "ex," but good timber like him will not be permitted to remain idle long. He is as sure to succeed Judge Burnham as a cent is for a ginger cake, if his friends can only get him to run for the office.

POLITICAL.

Recommendations have been made to Congress for a continuous dam across the Ohio river at Louisville.

State Central Committeeman Ab Rhea has been made steward of the Feeble-Minded Institute at Frankfort. A bill probably will be introduced in the Kentucky Legislature to do away with the secret ballot and substitute the viva voce.

Events at Frankfort make it more evident than ever that Gov. Beckham will be a candidate for United States Senator, says the Louisville Times.

Gov. Beckham will name Judge Matt O'Doherty, Will H. Newman and Chas. P. Dehler as commissioners of the Central Asylum for the Insane at Lexington.

The joint Democratic caucus at Frankfort nominated George V. Green for Prison Commissioner and Miss Pauline Helm Hardin for State Librarian.

The first official act of Appellate Clerk Morgan Chlon was to swear in Hons. W. C. Bell and Allie W. Young as circuit judges in their respective districts.

Chief Justice Fuller, of the Supreme Court, decided that citizens of Porto Rico are not aliens and that they are entitled to enter this country without obstruction.

At a meeting of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Senator Morgan attacked the right of the Republic of Panama to surrender title to the canal property.

Sec'y Hitchcock has recommended that the office of Railroad Commissioner be abolished, and it is probable that no successor to General Longstreet will be appointed.

The Senate committee on military affairs decided to report favorably the nomination of Brig. Gen. Leonard Wood to be Major General. The vote stood seven to two.

The bill making original packages of liquor and beer subject to the laws of the State into which they are shipped is expected to be favorably reported by the House Judiciary Committee.

Senator J. C. S. Blackburn announces that he will be a candidate for reelection and will make the fight of his life. He comes out for Governor for the democratic nomination for President.

Enoch S. Osborne has been appointed postmaster at George, Harlan county; Mr. Rosealine Woodbridge at Jabez, Russell county, and Mrs. P. A. Webb at Webb's Cross Roads, Russell county.

Charles S. Hamlin, of Boston, first assistant secretary of the treasury under Cleveland, writes that he is going to devote a great deal of his time to ward procuring the democratic nomination for President for Richard Olney.

State Treasurer Bosworth has named as State depositories for the next four years the Southern National Bank, of Louisville; Farmers' Bank, of Frankfort; Graves County Banking and Trust Company, of Mayfield; National Bank of Lebanon, and Phoenix National Bank, of Lexington.

Superintendent of City Schools M. A. Cassidy has received no action that he will be appointed a member of the State board of examiners. Prof. M. L. Cowning, of Lawrenceburg, will be the other member, Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Fuqua completing the board.—Lexington Democrat.

The new Speaker is a gentleman of ripe legislative experiences, well proven ability and known personal integrity. As presiding officer of the House, men and measures are assured a fair hearing and the business of the session will not suffer because of the responsibility intrusted to his hands.—Louisville Times.

In a long speech in the Senate Mr. Lodge endorsed President Roosevelt's action as to Panama, declaring that in no way had the executive overstepped his legal rights. A resolution introduced by Senator Gorman calls on the president for specified information as to the United States' connection with Colombian affairs.

John S. Rhea, of the Third district, has announced that he is a candidate for re-election to Congress. He says he has heard that he may have opposition for the nomination. "If I do," he said, "I shall insist on a primary. I want the people of my district to express their preference, and if that privilege is given them I have no fears as to the result."

Principal Suggestions in Gov. Beckham's Message.

That the charitable institutions of the State are in need of smaller appropriations than for some years past.

That while there is in the State Treasury more money than has ever before been in the treasury, yet prudence and economy are advised.

That the schools of reform be placed under a different system of operation, the Governor's idea probably being that they should be placed under the management of the State Board of Prison Commissioners or some such body.

That the crowded condition of the insane asylums makes necessary an appropriation for an addition to one of the present asylums. This would be less expensive than the building of another asylum.

That the democratic platform demand for uniform school books and for a maximum price to be fixed by statute should be put into execution in the form of a uniform school book law. The Governor thinks that such a measure should and will pass at this session and that it is the most popular measure now before the people.

He suggests that the county pay half of the $75 per capita now paid by the State for pauper idiots, believing that this would prevent carelessness on the part of county officials and would save from $150,000 to $200,000 a year.

He urges that a sufficient amount of money should be appropriated for the erection of capitol buildings commensurate with the dignity of the State. He regards the location of the capitol as settled and believes that this is the proper time for the passage of a Capitol Appropriation Bill.

He urges a proper appropriation to carry out the plan of the Kentucky Exhibition Association for the proper representation of Kentucky at the World's Fair in St. Louis.

The Governor's suggestions are favorably commended upon by the membership of the Senate and House and it is believed that most of them will be crystallized into laws.

MILLIONAIRE'S POOR STOMACH.—The worn out stomach of the over fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaires unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over 35 years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
